This year, 94 companies were honoured with the Customers' Choice title. The selection process is straightforward: customers send a free request on Procompare and receive multiple offers from local professionals. Once the work is completed, clients rate the selected professional on a scale from 1 to 5.

These ratings are published on the provider's presentation page, along with other key information such as the number of projects undertaken, average client rating, written reviews, response speed to requests, and whether they received the Customers' Choice award in a particular year.

Service requests on the rise

The most requested services in 2023 saw a significant increase compared to 2022, with solar panels (+248.7%) and air conditioning (+180.8%) leading the way. While requests for solar systems plateaued in the second half of the year, demand for air conditioning installation continues to rise due to seasonality.

Interestingly, 2023 did not see a significant rise in new building constructions. Instead, homeowners increasingly focused on upgrading their existing homes. Demand for interior design services surged by 122%, and while requests for carports and fences declined, the demand for minor construction work like pools and boundary walls doubled.

As post-Covid normalisation continues, event planning requests saw an uptick of 72.9%. However, the clear winner in terms of rising demand is search engine optimisation services. Requests for SEO professionals skyrocketed by 294.6%, indicating a significant need for SEO optimisation and online promotion following the e-commerce boom of recent years.
