

Eskimi and Jobberman launch job section

Eskimi, one of Nigeria's social networking platforms, has announced that it has joined forces with Jobberman, a jobs website in Nigeria to launch a Job section on Eskimi.

The new job section will allow nearly six million registered Nigerians on Eskimi to find and apply for jobs easier. Eskimi members can browse all jobs and seek employment at more than 7,000 trusted employers on Jobberman.

The job section is accessible through Eskimi main page under a separate link and is also promoted across the portal. The catalogue is developed to show only relevant jobs according to users location what makes job search even easier.

Vytas Paukstys, CEO of Eskimi, says "The Job section is live already for few weeks now in Beta stage and more than 30'000 Eskimi members already applied for a job. Our two main audience segments on Eskimi are youth and young professionals. Students are looking for their first job, already working people are sometimes looking to find a new better paying job. All this is now possible without leaving Eskimi environment".

"We are very happy to partner with Eskimi and help six million Nigerians on Eskimi to find a new better job or even their first job easier. They just need to apply for a job on Eskimi platform, complete their details, send their CV and employer receives their application within minutes" says Opeyemi Awoyemi, co-founder of Jobberman.
