There are a lot of pretenders out there in the location-based advertising space. They lure you in with empty promises of accuracy and transparency. But can these companies actually show you the promised deliverables?

Where is my ad?

That's what you should be asking

Vicinity Media is the real deal and our #WhereIsMyAd campaign will prove it, with a custom ad served live on a publisher site, triggered within a tiny geofence around your home or office.

Put us to the test by registering for your own custom ad, and entering the competition to stand a chance of winning R25,000.
