Egypt bans Matrix Reloaded

The sci-fi hit movie Matrix Reloaded, currently on South African circuits, has been banned in Egypt because it deals with subjects like human existence and creation. "These are questions linked to the three monotheistic religions that we respect and which we believe in," said Director of artistic censorship, Madkur Thabet. "These questions have in the past provoked crises and tension."

Source: iafrica.com

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com