

Accounting for SA's film production industry

Internationally successful film production and entertainment accounting services company, Money Penny Services, is increasing its presence and further developing its range of activities in South Africa through its BEE transaction with black-owned marketing and business investment company, Mazole Holdings and the establishment of a Johannesburg base. The company offers its own fully integrated general ledger and payroll software accounting package, Goldfinger, designed primarily for the management of film, TV, theatre and TVC production budgets.
