

Dentsu South Africa's CEO bids farewell

Koo Govender, CEO of Dentsu South Africa, has left the company to pursue other interests. Govender is a passionate and committed advocate for a better and clearer communications landscape in South Africa and has had a positive and invaluable impact on the South African industry.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>