

Chevron South Africa appoints new executive chairman

Chevron South Africa (PTY) Ltd., which operates in South Africa under the Caltex Brand, has announced the appointment of Shashi Rabbipal as its new executive chairman. Shashi Rabbipal will be responsible for leading Chevron South Africa's corporate governance team and will steer the company's continued progress on transformation. He will also focus on establishing and maintaining relationships with key external stakeholder business partners.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>