

WIRED 2012 announces agenda

LONDON, UK: The event's organisers have announced the agenda for WIRED 2012.

A haven for disruptive thinking and radical opinion, WIRED 2012 has attracted numerous prominent global industry names who will focus on a wide range of stimulating topics, from science and business to pop-culture and politics.

Individual session subjects include:

- Rethink What You See
- Re-designing the Non-Profit
- The New Rules of Business
- The Unfinished Social Revolution
- Build a Social Business
- The Future as Seen From the Lab I & II
- The Power of Data
- The Future of the City
- Cyberwar
- At the Creative Edge
- Problem Solving Technology
- Hackers and Makers

Download the full agenda PDF here.

For the full agenda online, please visit www.wiredevent.co.uk/agenda.

For the complete list of confirmed speakers, check out the website here www.wiredevent.co.uk/speakers.

Delegates already registered to attend WIRED 2012 include professionals from companies including; MTV International, Thomas Cooke, Bank Audi, Phones 4u, MEC, Rothco, UM London, Novacraft and many more.

Last year's event was a sell-out, and this year's stimulating agenda is even more engaging, jam-packed with content, networking and inspiring talks.

Book your ticket today.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>