

Spark Music & Arts Festival announces line-up

The Spark Music & Arts Festival is a two-day, two-dance floor music and arts festival brought to Cape Town by the creators of The Spirit Train from Afrikaburn and Train Parties by Make-Believe, held on 27 and 28 December, 2015.

The festival's unique 'Leave No Trace' venue is situated just 45km from Cape Town (between Paarl & Stellenbosch) on a nature reserve fittingly chosen with the legacy of conservation and radical-responsible partying in mind - and it truly is a gem (more details will be revealed shortly).

Featuring an island as the central dance floor and surrounded by swimming water, mountains and stars - a video-mapping, lighting and fire display by night will complement the beauty of the venue.

Festival participants will experience a carefully crafted landscape of sound over two floors - from dub, funk and experimental beats to the deep 'n twisted house and techno grooves. There will be nine live acts and 28 DJs - including Andi Dill, Metro Ticket and international music men Nico Sun and Luke Redford.

Camping

Camping out is part of the Spark experience - and is free. The venue boasts a wide stretch of shaded camping under a beautiful, tall canopy of eucalyptus trees that flank the main festival area.

Other festival features will include a fully stocked bar - complete with Snapscan payment option, food trucks and sushi bars and a cellphone charging station.
