

Alive Advertising founder has passed on

Media company Alive Advertising has announced that its founder and managing member, Itz Arenstein, has passed on. Arenstein pioneered the very first outdoor digital billboard in South Africa more than 24 years ago.

He worked together with his partners and employees to build and grow the media company, offering digital billboards across South Africa.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>