

Innovations in ESG (Environmental Social Governance)

16 Mar 2012

ESG Green Pages is looking for great ideas. We are looking to profile exciting people and projects in the ESG sector for our business-to-business title.

The magazine launched at COP17 and is now taking the SA agenda forward this year with two issues, one for June and the second distributed in November. But the brand is larger than the widely read publication, it is a communication platform and a growing community of ESG practitioners. One extension is the Smart Cities Expo in June. There will be a special feature on Smart Cities in the next issue. So we are looking for editorial submissions from players in the field. We are showcasing innovators, great ideas, thought leaders, new projects, exciting products and technologies and cutting-edge management ideas for sustainability. If you have projects, or people, who are noteworthy, send us an email with a submission or motivation of no more than 150 words to editor@topco.co.za. For participation enquiries, please contact ross.maltman@topco.co.za.
