

Adams & Adams win first Africa Award for Best IP Law Firm

South African law firm Adams & Adams has been awarded the 2015 Managing Intellectual Property (MIP) best IP law firm in Africa. The Africa Award was awarded for the first time in 2015 and was based on research conducted by independent researchers.

The magazine is recognised as the global voice of the IP industry. It recognises the attributes of IP law firms globally and their commitment to innovation, outstanding work in the previous year, as well as new clients.
