

Fastjet leads on-time performance in Africa

Fastjet's on-time performance continues to lead all other African regional airlines. In August the carrier achieved a 90% average network on-time performance; exceeding the 90% mark for its sixth month.

Considered one of the most consistently punctual airlines in the world, Fastjet counts amongst the top airlines when measured against flightstats.com, a website that measures airlines globally for on-time performance every month.

Fastjet's recent launch of the Harare Bulawayo route sees the airline now offering four routes from its hub in Harare, connecting Harare to Victoria Falls, Bulawayo, Johannesburg and Dar es Salaam.
